LUIS MACAS	Nosotros, desde las nacionalidades indígenas, desde nuestras organizaciones, queremos, eh, decir al país y al mundo, eh, finalmente son trece años de esperas, o más de trece años, que este caso, eh, se viene arrastrando, y por qué. La compañía Texaco ha puesto todos los-- los, uh, obstáculos, como se ha dicho aquí, ha querido recubrir, precisamente, a cualquiera de los mecanismos a fin de poder prolongar el tiempo. Como decimos nosotros, comúnmente, tratando de quemar el tiempo. Todo, prácticamente, el proceso. De tal modo de que, nosotros, desde las nacionalidades indígenas donde realmente están afectados, los hermanos geona, secoya, los cofanes, guaranis, quichuan, y la comunidad campesina no-indígena, son compañeros que han resistido en esta lucha, y son compañeros que han venido, obviamente, trabajando durante todos los trece años. No, quizás, solamente porque, eh, se siente ahí la violación a los derechos fundamentales de las personas, los derechos colectivos que están contemplado [sic] en la Constitución Política del Estado, y que también garantiza estos mismos derechos de los pueblos indígenas el convenio ciento sesenta y nueve, sino porque la agresión con que ha actuado la compañía Texaco va en contra de la soberanía del Estado. En contra de todos los derechos	We, from the indigenous nationalities, from our organizations, we want, uh, to tell the country and the world, uh, finally it has been thirteen years of delays, or over thirteen years, that this case, uh, has been dragging, and why. The Texaco company has put all of the-- the, uh, obstacles, as it has been said here, it has wanted to cover, precisely, any mechanism in order to prolong time. As we commonly say, trying to burn time. Practically the entire trial. Therefore, we, from the indigenous nationalities that are truly affected, our Geona, Secoya, Cofan, Guarani, Quichuan brothers, and the non-indigenous farming community, are friends who have withstood this fight, and are friends who have been, obviously, working throughout these thirteen years. Not, perhaps, only because, uh, you can perceive the violation of people's fundamental rights, the collective rights under the Political Constitution of the State, these rights of indigenous peoples also being protected by covenant one hundred sixty-nine, but because the aggressive manner in which the Texaco company has acted goes against the sovereignty of the State. Against the rights of all Ecuadorians. That is why we believe that this time, decisively, with this last recourse that remains, which is the global expert assessment, that the attorneys are filing, and which they will obviously explain, will mark the end of this case. In no way would we

Y, por eso, creemos de que esta vez, definitivamente, con este último recurso que queda, que es el peritaje global, que están presentando los abogados, y obviamente que lo explicarán ellos, sea ya el punto final de este caso. Sucumbíos, de Nueva Loja, él nos decía, mostrándonos cinco tomos de presentación como argumento para que no se realice este peritaje global, presentado por la Texaco, esas cosas son los [sic] que van prolongando en el tiempo este... este caso tan importante. Sucumbíos, in Nueva Loja, he told us, showing us five volumes of filings in arguments against this global expert assessment being conducted, filed by Texaco, these things are those that prolong time in this... this case which is so important. STEVEN DONZIGER	[unintelligible]. In terms of the actual case, uhm, we have a need—and—and the reason I'm here is we have a need to really increase our capacity to do this work. You know, we feel like we do not have the people or expertise needed to take this case home. Uhm, we're in the final phase of the case, which is a damages claim. And the way—the way the law works in Ecuador—they don't separate out liability and damages. They put it all in the same trial. So there's been no ruling on liability, but we're still going to do a damages claim. In a way, I kind of like that because I think the damages claim will really help the court understand that they're liable. You know? So... we recently got an order that the damages claim needed to be finished in a hundred and twenty days, which means a hundred and twenty working days. It's not a fixed deadline, because these things can easily be extended if need—if they need to be. But, I'd say that, ideally, we would like to start this work now and try to finish it in six months. If it's—if that's just completely unrealistic given what we want to accomplish, we can extend it. But that-- that would be the goal. Uhm, the memo I've put together are the categories of damages that we are entitled to present to the court. Uhm... and, you know, all of these categories, I think we could use help in. Some, we have absolutely no help at all, really, like the degraded habitat. I mean, Dave and I spoke. Uhm,

	the remediation plan, we're already working with somebody that, uhm, but, we feel like there's—it still needs to be significantly beefed up. Uhm, and then you see the other categories here. I think the most fundamental need o—of the people, you know, I think there's really two most fundamental things. One is there has to be some sort of access to clean water as soon as possible, because the water is contaminated, and people do not have access to clean water and they're drinking water from wells that come out of groundwater, and rivers that it—that are just... you know, there's toxins in them based on testing and based on, you know, stuff we ... can find out. Although the testing we've done so far in the trial is, you know, extensive, but probably a little bit chaotic and disorganized, and I'll talk about that in a s[cut-off]

DONZIGER	Okay. So, you know-- but it goes way beyond the problem of any individual judge, 'cause it's possible the next person could come in and s-- and not want to deal with it and do the same. You know, it's a problem of institutional weakness in the judiciary, generally, and of this court, in particular. We have concluded that we need to do more, politically, to control the court, to pressure the court. We believe they make decisions based on who they fear the most, not based on what the laws should dictate. So, what we want to do is take over the court with a massive protest that we haven't done since the first day of the trial, back in October of 2003. Remember all those people on the street?	Bien. Entonces, saben-- pero esto va mucho más allá del problema de cualquier juez en particular, porque es posible que la siguiente persona entre y di-- y no quiera lidiar con ello, y haga lo mismo. Sabes, es un problema con la debilidad institucional en la judicatura, en general, y de esta corte, en particular. Hemos llegado a la conclusión de que tenemos que hacer más, políticamente, para controlar a la corte, para presionar a la corte. Creemos que toman decisiones de acuerdo a quién temen más, no de acuerdo a lo que establecen las leyes. Así que, lo que queremos hacer es tomar control de la corte a través de una protesta masiva, como no hemos hecho desde el primer día del juicio, allá en octubre de 2003. ¿Recuerdan que había toda esa gente en la calle?

DONZIGER	Uhm, and we want to do that the last week of June. Soon, like three weeks. Okay? Uhm, how	Eh, y queremos hacer todo eso durante la última semana de junio. Pronto, como en tres

	we're gonna do it—like, are we just gonna be outside, are we actually gonna go in and shut the court down for a day— are all issues we need to figure out strategically. But, it-- it's-- it's a critically important moment, because we want to send a message to the court that, 'don't fuck with us anymore-- not now, and not-- not later, and never.' 'Cause we have been weak on the political pressure. And all Texaco has to do, if you think about it, all they have to do is get the court to do nothing. That's easy. We have to get the court to act in a way no court has ever acted before in Ecuador. That's hard. You know, so, in a way, their job is easier. They work the back scenes. They probably pay some people off, they get friendly with them. You know, they do the little thing, and then suddenly there's, like, a paralysis in the court. You know, and we're stuck. And, you know, no one fears us right now. And, until they fear us, we're not gonna win this case. I'm convinced.	semanas. ¿Bien? Eh, cómo vamos a hacerlo, ¿vamos a estar afuera, o bien vamos a entrar y cerrar la corte por un día? Todos son asuntos que tenemos que determinar estratégicamente. Pero, es-- es-- es un momento de vital importancia, porque queremos enviarle un mensaje a la corte de que ya no se metan con nosotros-- ni ahora, ni-- ni después, ni nunca. Porque la presión política de nuestra parte ha sido débil. Y lo único que tiene que hacer Texaco, piénsenlo, es lograr que la corte no haga nada. Eso es fácil. Nosotros tenemos que lograr que la corte actúe como ninguna corte actuó jamás en Ecuador. Eso es difícil, ¿no? Así que, de cierta forma, el trabajo de ellos es más fácil. Ellos trabajan entre bastidores. Lo más seguro es que sobornan a la gente, se muestran amables con ellos, ¿no? Hacen cualquier cosita, y de pronto hay como una parálisis en la corte. Y saben, nos estancamos. Y, saben, nadie nos tiene miedo por ahora. Y, no vamos ganar este caso hasta que nos tengan miedo. De eso estoy convencido.
SOLTANI	I have a question.	Tengo una pregunta.

SPEAKER	ORIGINAL	TRANSLATION (Spanish)	TRANSLATION (English)
ATOSSA SOLTANI	[inintelligible]		[unintelligible]
STEVEN DONZIGER	Uhm...		Uhm...
SOLTANI	Este proyecto de John S-- Quigley-- ¿querem-- queremos hablar sobre esto?		This project of John S-- Quigley's-- do we want-- do we want to talk about this?
DONZIGER	[inintelligible] necesidades son una marcha grande...		[unintelligible] needs are a big march...
SOLTANI	En Quito-- en, ah...		In Quito-- in, uh...
DONZIGER	En Lago.		In Lago.
SOLTANI	En Lago.		In Lago.
DONZIGER	Hay varias cosas. Marcha grande, que formamos nuestro propio ejército. Privado.		There are several things. Big march that we make our own army. Private [army].
YANZA	[risa] Es-- es-- se dice ejército pero es como una-- un grupo-- un grupo especializado, sí, especializado para, eh-- ah-- de acción inmediata.		[laughter] It's-- it's-- it's called an army, but it's like a-- a group-- a specialized group, right, specialized for, uh-- ah-- for immediate action.
DONZIGER	[Risa] [inintelligible]		[Laughter] [unintelligible]
YANZA	Cuando se necesita la corte-- cuando se necesita actuar.		When the court is needed-- when action is needed.
SOLTANI	¿Ustedes saben que si alguien puede, uh, subpoena estos videos? Que es una [inintelligible]	puede, uh, citar judicialmente estos	Do you guys know if anybody can, uh, subpoena these videos? What is a [unintelligible]
DONZIGER	We don't have the power of subpoena in Ecuador.	No contamos con la facultad de citar judicialmente en Ecuador.
SOLTANI	What about U.S.? These guys...	Y ¿qué tal los Estados Unidos? Estos fulanos...
DONZIGER	Un ejército-- no es un ejército armado-- es un grupo de gente para vigilar a la corte...		An army-- it's not an armed army-- it's a group of people to watch over the court...

SOLTANI	I just want to know-- I just want you to know that it's-- it's illegal to conspire to break the law.	Sólo quiero saber-- sólo quiero que sepan que es-- es ilegal conspirar para violar la ley.
	[risa]		[laughter]
DONZIGER	No law's been conspired to be broken.	No se ha conspirado para violar ninguna ley.
YANZA	[risa] Es para vigilar a la corte, porque lo que resta del caso...		[laughter] It's to watch over the court, because for the remainder of the case...
DONZIGER	It's to protect justice.	Es para proteger la justicia.
SOLTANI	[inintelligible] es que hay un grupo...		[unintelligible] it's that there's a group...
DONZIGER	To prevent Texaco from breaking the law.	Para evitar que Texaco viole la ley.
SOLTANI	Hay un grupo de vi-- personas que están vigilando el [sic] corte, como...		There's a group of wat-- people who are watching the court, like...
YANZA	Sí, pero que ya sean permanentemente-- no es que están todos, es por turnos, pero que ya estén dispuestos un poco [voices solapadas]		Yes, but who are there permanently-- it's not that everyone is there, it goes by shifts, but who are available a little [overlapped voices]
DONZIGER	La idea-- necesitamos una vigilancia permanente [voices solapadas] con veinte personas para seguir Richard, el perito, para proteger la corte, para prevenir corrupción. Evitar corrupción. Necesitamos gente. Es una fuerza, política, que los jueces puedan ver. Entonces, empezamos con quinientos personas en la corte, y después de eso-- todo eso, siguen como veinte, treinta personas, pagados por nosotros, por su tiempo, para proteger la [sic] proceso de corrupción.		The idea-- we need a permanent watch [overlapped voices] with twenty people to follow Richard, the expert, to protect the court, to prevent corruption. Prevent corruption. We need people. It's a force, a political force that the judges can see. Then, we start with five hundred people at the court and after that-- all that, followed by twenty, thirty people, paid by us, for their time to protect the process from corruption.
SOLTANI	Monitores.		Monitors.
YANZA	Sí.		Yes.

DONZIGER	Exacto.		Exactly.
YANZA	Sí, sí, sí. [inintelligible]		Yes, yes, yes [unintelligible]
DONZIGER	Yo prefiero la palabra 'ejército', pero...		I prefer the word 'army', but...
YANZA	Pero-- pero-- [risa entre los dientes] pero-- pero esta gente...		But-- but-- [chuckles] but-- but these people...
	[voces solapadas]		[overlapped voices]
YANZA	... tendría que recibir una capacitación mínima...		... would have to receive some minimal training...
SOLTANI	Actually, I like this country.	De hecho, me gusta este país.
YANZA	... tendría que recibir una capacitación mínima... cosas-- detalles, para que puedan hacernos buen trabajo. Eso es. Y, luego, si es que va bien, y necesitamos, eh, necesitamos armas, podemos proveer de armas.		... they would have to receive minimal training... things-- details, so they do a good job for us. That's it. And then, if it goes well, and we need, uh, if we need weapons, we can provide weapons.
DONZIGER	[risa]		[laughter]
YANZA	¡De Irán! Podemos traer...		From Iran! We can bring...
DONZIGER	[risa]		[laughter]
SOLTANI	[inintelligible]		[unintelligible]
DONZIGER	So we really need-- we really need some-- some long-term support. Get some people mobilized.	Así que en verdad necesitamos-- en verdad necesitamos algo de-- algo de apoyo a largo plazo. Mobilizar a un grupo de personas...
YANZA	[risa]		[laughter]
SOLTANI	Yo entiendo. What kind of long-term support? [pause] Steven?	¿Qué tipo de aporte a largo plazo? [pausa] ¿Steven?	I understand.
DONZIGER	What's that?	¿Cómo?
SOLTANI	¿Qué tipo de aporte?		What type of support?

DONZIGER	Money. It's basically a project that requires us to pay to find the people and pay them for their time.	Dinero. Básicamente, es un proyecto que require que paguemos para encontrar a las personas y pagarles por su tiempo.
SOLTANI	[unintelligible]	[inintelligible]
DONZIGER	I think we need, like, a hundred grand...	Creo que necesitamos, como, cien mil...
YANZA	Tendríamos que trabajar todavía...		We would still have to work...
DONZIGER	... for, like, a year.	... para, como, un año.
YANZA	... es una idea que nació ahora. Tenemos que--		... it's an idea that was just born. We have to--
DONZIGER	Yeah-- we need-- we need money, though. I think this is the most important thing that needs to be funded right now for us. Otherwise, we're gonna lose this case.	Si— necesitamos-- necesitamos dinero, sin embargo. Creo que para nosotros esto es lo más importante que hay que patrocinar económicamente por ahora. Si no, vamos a perder este caso.
SOLTANI	A hundred grand is a lot of money. I mean-- can't some of that mon-- can't that be-- some of that be-- we also don't-- I mean, we want it to be of a movement, we don't just want to be paid mercenaries, right? It's gotta be a movement.	Cien mil es mucho dinero. Es decir-- no se puede que algo de ese din-- no puede eso-- no puede algo de eso ser-- nosotros tampoco-- es decir, queremos que sea un movimiento, no queremos que sean solamente mercenarios pagados, ¿no? Tiene que ser un movimiento.
DONZIGER	Talk to Luis. I mean, it is a movement. Or a revolutionary movement.	Habla con Luis. Es decir, sí es un movimiento. O un movimiento revolucionario.
YANZA	[risa]		[laughter]
DONZIGER	And we need our own army. No! I'm just kidding [laughter]	Y necesitamos nuestro propio ejército. No, estoy bromeando [risas].
KEVIN KOENIG	I'm outta here...	Ya me voy...
DONZIGER	No, no. Paid only because it's-- people work. They need-- they	No, no. Pagado solamente porque es-- la gente trabaja.

	could be employees of the Frente, do multiple tasks, you know. But we need to be able to have some economic support for people to leave their jobs on weekdays. Otherwise, there's no way it's gonna work. Ella está preocupada si pagamos a la gente, parece como son mercenarios. ¿Qué dices tú?	Necesitan-- pueden ser empleados del Frente, hacer tareas múltiples, ustedes saben. Pero necesitamos apoyo económico para que la gente deje sus trabajos entre semana. Si no, de ninguna manera va a funcionar.	She is worried that if we pay people, it will seem as if they're mercenaries. What do you think?
YANZA	Yo también, eso. También pien-- tengo esa preocupación, pero, igual, estoy pensando cómo manejar eso. Porque también es delicado, no sólo porque sean mercenarios, po-- po-- porque puedan recibir ese calificativo, sino tambien que, en la misma comunidad puede que generar cierta envidia, de que están pagados...		Me, too. I also think-- I have that concern, but, I am also thinking about how to manage this. Because it is also a delicate matter, not just because of their being mercenaries, be-- be-- because they could be called that, but rather, some level of envy could arise within the community itself, because they are paid...
DONZIGER	Mm-hmm.	Hmm.
YANZA	... entonces, tenemos que nosotros pensar cómo manejar - entre los dirigentes podemos pensar y manejar eso. Porque es delicado. Quisiera que internamente no surja ningún problema por esa situación. Pero, yo creo que es manejable, y- y tenemos que pensar.		... so, we have to think about how to manage-- among us leaders, we can think about and manage that. Because it's sensitive. I wouldn't want there to be any issue internally because of this situation. But, I think it's manageable, and-- and we have to think.
SOLTANI	Mm-hmm.	Hmm.
DONZIGER	I threw a hundred grand out just 'cause I see it as a year-long project. You know, I think that if we don't step up, we risk doing this forever, losing the case. Another thing, remember. This movie's gonna come out. Maybe as early as January, which is gonna potentially...	Sugerí cien mil solo porque, así como yo lo veo, es un proyecto de todo un año, ¿no? Pienso yo que si no hacemos algo más, nos arriesgamos a perder esto para siempre, perder el caso. Otra cosa, recuerden. Esta película se va a estrenar. Quizás tan pronto como enero, lo cual podría...
SOLTANI	And we have to talk about [unintelligible]	Y tenemos que hablar acerca [inintelligible]
DONZIGER	... completely change the	... cambiar la dinámica por

	dynamic. Because, let's say the movie comes out-- well, it'll come out, say, in a festival. It won't actually go to theatres for several months after that, but, let's say, a year from now, the movie is in many theatres and it's a hit. Okay? And, we're still sitting here with this judge. I mean, it's just ridiculous. We have to move this case. It's-- it's exhausting. We're exhausted. Okay? And we-- while we can do all the legal briefs in the world and host all the visitors who want to come, if we don't show power in the court, we're not gonna finish this case. And we-- if we don't finish the case, we won't win the case. The meetings with the judge, like you guys had yesterday, I think, are of minimal effect. I-- I've been to a lot of those meetings. I think they do, potentially, help... with normal people-- this guy's not normal. He's a full-o'-shit guy. You know what I mean? He's dancing around-- charming. So, I think this is the most critical thing. We have to focus, to me, on what's most important, which is pressure on the company, which was Darryl, photos that John Quigley can do, and control of the court. The legal stuff is fine, it's totally under control. The proof. You know, Bill Powers, he needs to come down, we need to do-- fill in some holes here and there, but we could-- we could write our final argument today. I mean, we have that much information. So, we have to think-- this is the thing: I think we have to be careful as-- you as an NGO that supports this process, and me as an American lawyer who doesn't live here. We have to be careful to focus, always, on the highest priorities. You know? And, we're trying to	completo. Porque, digamos, se estrena la película-- pues, digamos, se estrenará en un festival. No saldrá en cines por varios meses después de eso, pero, digamos, de aquí a un año, la película está en cines y es todo un éxito. ¿No? Y aquí estamos todavía con este juez. Digo, es absurdo. Tenemos que hacer que este caso se mueva. Es-- es agobiante. Estamos exhaustos, ¿no? Y nosotros-- mientras podemos hacer todos los escritos legales del mundo y recibir a todas las visitas que quieran venir, si no mostramos poder en la corte, no vamos a terminar este caso. Y si-- si no terminamos el caso, no vamos a ganar el caso. Las juntas con el juez, como la que tuvieron ustedes ayer, creo, tiene sólo un efecto mínimo. Yo-- yo he asistido a muchas de estas juntas. Creo que sí, potencialmente, ayudan... con gente normal-- este fulano no es normal. Habla puras pendejadas. ¿Saben? Da sus rodeos-- todo encantador. Así que, creo que esto es lo más crítico. Tenemos que enfocarnos, digo yo, en lo más importante, que es presionar a la compañía, lo cual hizo Darryl, fotos que puede hacer John Quigley y control sobre la corte. Lo legal anda bien, totalmente bajo control. La prueba. Ya saben, Bill Powers, él tiene que venir, tenemos que-- llenar unos huecos por aquí, por allá-- pero podríamos-- podríamos redactar nuestro argumento final hoy. Es decir, así de información tenemos. Así que, tenemos que pensar-- he aquí la cosa: Creo que tenemos que tener cuidado -- tú como NGO que apoya este proceso, yo como abogado estadounidense que no vivo aquí. Tenemos que asegurar
--	--	---

	balance a lot of shit, right now, because ever since the Vanity Fair article came out, all this stuff is happening. You know-- Trudie came down. I think Sting wants to get involved. Darryl Hannah is an amazing person. John Quigley is a person I never even knew about, I think the guy could do wonders for us. You know what I mean? And-- but all that takes money and time-- a lot of time. You know, like it takes time for us to do the photo exhibit and to go on these toxi-tours and, you know, I'm so behind, and exhausted.	que nuestro enfoque siempre esté en lo más prioritario, ¿no? Y, estamos tratando de mantener el equilibrio entre muchas mierdas, ahorita, porque desde que salió el artículo en Vanity Fair, están pasando muchas cosas. Saben--vino Trudie. Creo que quiere participar Sting. Darryl Hannah es una persona estupenda. John Quigley es una persona que ni siquiera conocía, creo que podría hacer maravillas por nosotros, ¿no? Y-- pero todo eso requiere dinero y tiempo--mucho tiempo. Saben, como toma tiempo para que hagamos las sesiones fotográficas y hacer esas excusiones "toxi tour" y, saben, estoy muy atrasado y exhausto.
SOLTANI	So, why are you trying to start new projects. I mean, the question...	Entonces, ¿por qué estás tratando de empezar proyectos nuevos? Es decir, la pregunta...
DONZIGER	No, no. The army project is not a new project. I mean, it's-- it's-- it's an effort to step up the political power we have in the court, at the point of contact, where they're gonna feel it the most.	No, no. El proyecto del ejército no es un proyecto nuevo. Es decir, es-- es-- es un esfuerzo para aumentar el poder político que tenemos en la corte, en el punto de contacto, donde más lo van a sentir.
SOLTANI	What about getting other judges and-- and other-- like, does the court system, you know, maybe—is maybe more influenced by jurists, judges, other [cut off]	Y, ¿qué tal conseguir a otros jueces y-- y otros-- como, el sistema judicial, saben, quizás-- quizás está más influido por juristas, jueces, otro [se corta]

SPEAKER (VOZ)	ORIGINAL	TRADUCCIÓN AL ESPAÑOL
STEVEN DONZIGER	Our biggest problem right now is we have to pressure the judge and the court. And all these ideas about, you know, suing Texaco for moral damage by the Cofán, or, you know, pressuring the national prosecutor to open criminal cases-- like, they don't result in the judge feeling more pressure. So, you know, if we're gonna choose to do things, we need to do the things the judge is gonna really feel. Like the President of the country calling him out, you know. The President of the Supreme Court calling him out, for how slow the case is going. Us suing Chevron, in another form for some other thing, is not gonna pressure this judge in our case. And we have to be totally focused, in terms of our limited resources, on that one thing. That's what Texaco is doing. They're really smart. They focus on one thing: The judge. They know they can't beat us in the media. They know they can't beat us, you know, in the court of public opinion, internationally. They know every environmental group is against them. They quietly focus on the one thing they have a chance of winning at, which is control over this one person. And that's what we're neglecting. And it's not good. You know, all the success is a mile wide and an inch deep right now. We could easily lose this case if we don't do something. We have lost control of the court. We've lost control of the judge. I mean, you lose control of the judge in a bench trial, there's no jury... it's a	Nuestro problema más grande ahora es que tenemos que presionar al juez y a la corte. Y todas estas ideas de demandar a Texaco por daños morales por los cofanes o, sabes, presionar al fiscal nacional para que inicie casos penales—pues, eso no hace que el juez se sienta más presionado. Así que, si vamos a decidir hacer ciertas cosas, hay que hacer aquellas cosas que el juez en verdad va a sentir. Por ejemplo, que el presidente del país le exija una explicación, ¿no? El Presidente de la Corte Suprema exigiéndole que le explique porque el caso marcha tan lento. El que demandemos a Chevron, de otra manera o por alguna otra cosa, no va a presionar a este juez en nuestro caso. Y tenemos que concentrarnos totalmente, dados nuestros escasos recursos, en solo eso. Eso es lo que esta haciendo Texaco. Son muy inteligentes. Se concentran en una sola cosa: el juez. Saben que no nos pueden ganar en los medios de comunicación. Saben que no nos pueden ganar ante los ojos de la opinión pública internacional. Saben que todos los grupos ambientalistas están en su contra. Calladitos se concentran en donde tienen una posibilidad de ganar, es decir, el control de esta persona en particular. Y eso es lo que estamos descuidando. Y no es bueno. Sabes, en este momento, el éxito es amplio pero poco profundo. Podemos perder este caso fácilmente si no hacemos algo. Hemos perdido el control sobre la corte. 65 Hemos perdido el control

	bench trial-- you've lost the case. No matter how good the proof is. And that's what I'm seeing right now. And, I mean, people are intoxicated with all this fancy stuff and all the attention and Sting and Trudie and Al Gore and, you know, all this stuff. And-- and we're not taking care of business at home. And that's what-- that's what really worries me.	sobre el juez. Digo, si pierdes el control del juez cuando es un juicio ante un juez, sin jurado, has perdido el caso. No importa lo bueno que sean las pruebas. Y eso es lo que ahora estoy viendo. Y, digo, la gente está embriagada con todas estas cosas extravagantes y toda la atención y Sting y Trudie y Al Gore y, sabes, todas estas cosas. Y—y nosotros no nos estamos ocupando de nuestros asuntos. Y eso es—eso es lo que realmente me preocupa.
